Situation

The year is 2014.... Relations are strained remain strained between Georgia and separatist factions. Abkhazia has become hostile towards Georgia and the USA. The dispute revolves around Georgia allowing US Military bases to be built in Georgian sovereign territory in support of ongoing strategic operations against Iran. In addition to these developments, a recent coup in Abkhazia by a military leader who, for the past few years, has vastly expanded the Abkhazian militia by procuring tanks IFV's and small arms in an alarming manner from sympathetic backers in the Middle East. The regime is also violently suppressing Georgians nationals inside Abkhazia. South Ossetia is backing Abkhazia and intelligence reports a general mobilisation of insurgents in South Ossetia.

The resulting crisis has sucked NATO into the fray, with support being pledged and war materiel supplies being sent to Georgia after their government made appeals to the wider international community. Reports suggest that Abkhazian troops are engaged in systematic ethnic cleansing with Georgian nationals being killed, and evicted from Abkhazia in large numbers. Any attempt by the Georgian military intervene has resulted in clashes with opposing forces and mercenaries that the regime has recruited.

Our wing has been despatched to Georgia to support Georgian humanitarian efforts, but as tensions ratchet-up alarmingly, NATO chiefs now anticipate more aggressive measures may become necessary, and rules of engagement have been changed to reflect the policy shift to open warfare. Georgia is poised to invade Abkhazia with NATO troops providing air and limited ground forces in support.

Russian forces have at United Nations request, been held back, and will take no part in NATO operations but utmost care must be taken not to encroach into Russian airspace.

Our wing will be at the forefront of military operations commencing immediately. Our task will require Close Air Support, Interdiction and Search and Destroy missions co-ordinated by NATO or Georgian ground FACs and AFACs.

Operation Separatist Aggression

OPGOR forces are to deploy to forward operating bases, with the highest alert state, and assume a war footing with immediate effect. 74 and 97 Sqns are hereby ordered to deploy to Kutaisi where all necessary stores and support units are awaiting.

Operations will commence at 0600 Hrs Zulu on 1st June 2014.

Tasking

Engage and neutralise any and all Abkhazian forces deployed in forward positions along the Abkhazian/Georgian border to prevent an escalation of violence. Once the way has been cleared, a policing and humanitarian force will deploy into Abkhazia to end the crisis. The air commander will call this force forwards once the way has been cleared, or after 90 minutes of operations.

Friendly Mi24's are available from a nearby FARP. They are on call if needed. Georgian Su25's will also be flying operations out of Senaki and operating in our operational area..

Once the NATO convoy has deployed, further tasking of our units may be required, and tasking messages from higher formation can be repeated if required using the radio menus. Up to 2 tasks can be executed at a time... it is possible to request more but the radio F10 menu may become cluttered.

Senaki is available to provide refuelling/resupply, and a tanker will be on station.
